Meet Malik Allawal that works here

Demoxis is building the operating system for modern democracy.

Across the UK and other democracies, citizens feel unheard while elected leaders are overwhelmed by fragmented, unstructured public feedback spread across emails, social media, consultations, and casework systems. The result is slow responses, missed signals, and declining trust.

Demoxis solves this by using AI to turn raw public input into structured, decision-ready intelligence — connecting citizens directly with the right political authority, from local councillors to Members of Parliament.

Citizens raise issues through simpl...

People, funding & more

Meet Dan that works here

Persona Dynamics (legal name: Persona Design Ltd) is a UK-based AI persona platform that turns an organisation's research, policy documents and expert knowledge into queryable AI personas. Unlike purely synthetic user tools, every persona response is grounded in real evidence, traceable to its source and confidence-scored, so teams know not just what a persona says, but why, and how much to trust it.

Research, insight and strategy teams use Persona Dynamics to put years of accumulated research back to work: questioning personas during concept testing, brand strategy, public-sector consultatio...

People, funding & more

Meet Marcus that works here

Sendix AI Ltd is a GovTech compliance SaaS startup built specifically for the UK's Special Educational Needs and Disabilities (SEND) sector. At its core, Sendix is a compliance engine - the Glass Box Engine that automates the drafting of Education, Health and Care Plans (EHCPs) for Multi-Academy Trusts, while verifying every clause against the Children and Families Act 2014 before anything is saved.

EHCPs are legally binding documents. They define the educational, health, and care provision a child with special needs is entitled to by law. Getting them wrong isn't a paperwork issue, it's a le...

E Meet Emeric that works here

QuorumInsight is a B2B SaaS platform that turns UK local government meeting transcripts into commercial procurement intelligence. It ingests recordings and documents from 300+ councils, transcribes them, and uses LLMs to surface structured signals — upcoming procurements, budget pressures, policy shifts, and named decision-makers — giving suppliers 6–18 months of advance warning before opportunities appear on public tender portals like Contracts Finder.

cogniosynthesisportal ltd

The world's first epistemic intelligence platform

See full page

People, funding & more

Cogniosynthesis Portal Ltd builds epistemic intelligence tools for organisations where meaning matters. Our flagship product, CognioAPI, applies a 7-Dimension Framework to policies, reports, and governance documents — extracting span-cited claims, scoring cultural and ethical risk, detecting contradictions, and generating corrective rewrites. Unlike sentiment analysis or fact-checking, we audit the structure of meaning itself: what a document assumes, excludes, and makes invisible. CognioNews, our public-facing news platform, processes 1,600+ stories through this framework daily — serving as b...

FlowSignal.ai

Runtime Authority Infrastructure — Control at the Point of Execution

See full page

People, funding & more

Meet Graham that works here

FlowSignal is Runtime Authority Infrastructure — a control layer that sits at the point of execution, where AI-driven decisions become real-world actions.

Organisations today invest heavily in AI governance: policies, audits, model oversight. But failures don't happen in governance frameworks — they happen at the moment an action executes, when authority may no longer be valid.

FlowSignal solves this by verifying, in real time, whether an action is authorised at the exact moment it is about to occur.

Before execution, FlowSignal evaluates:

Whether the actor still has valid authority
Whethe...
